Cookies are small text files sent by a web server (e.g. the website or by different web servers, so-called third parties) to the user's browser, which are saved automatically on the user's computer and then sent back automatically to the server whenever necessary, or whenever you need to access the website again.

Types of cookies used by our website

The various types of cookies used for this website according to the intended use are shown below.

Technical cookies

This type of cookie is strictly necessary for some sections of the website to work properly. There are two types: persistent and session cookies:

- persistent cookies: when the browser is closed, they are not deleted but remain until a set expiry date is reached;
- session cookies: they are deleted every time the browser is closed.

These cookies, always sent from our domain, are necessary to view the website correctly and in relation to the technical services offered, will therefore always be used and sent, unless users change the settings in their browser (thereby affecting the way the website pages are viewed).

Analytical cookies

These types of cookies are used to collect information on the use of our website. This website will use this data for anonymous statistical analysis to improve use of our website so that the contents more interesting and relevant for users. This type of cookie collects data anonymously on user activity and how the user arrived at our website. Analytical cookies are sent by our website or by third party domains.

Third party analysis services cookies

These cookies are used to collect information anonymously on use of our website by users: pages visited, length of time spent on the website, traffic source, geographical origin, age, gender and interests for marketing campaigns. These cookies are sent by third party domains outside our website, in our case by Google Analytics.

Other cookies are installed when visiting our website pages which are managed exclusively by third parties. In particular:

Google Analytics: The website uses Google Analytics, a web analysis service supplied by Google, for analysing history, visit counts and anonymous browsing statistics.

The privacy notices and notes relating to how Google cookies work and consent to use them are available at the following links:

Cookies to integrate third-party software products and functions

This type of cookie integrates functionality developed by third parties within the pages of the website such as icons and the preferences expressed in social networks to share the contents of the website or for the use of third-party software services (such as software for generating maps and other software which offer additional services). These cookies are sent by third party domains and by partner websites which offer their functionalities in the website pages.

Profiling cookies

These are cookies required for creating user profiles for sending advertising messages in line with the preferences shown by the user while browsing the pages of the website.

We do not use profiling cookies in our website.

According to the regulations in force, this website is not required to ask for consent for technical cookies since they are required to provide the services requested.

For all other types of cookies, consent can be given by the User with one or more of the following methods:

- Via the specific browser configuration used or related computer programmes used to browse the pages of the website
- By changing the settings when using third-party services
- Removal of cookies installed by using the button below (requires leaving this website).

These solutions could prevent you from using or viewing parts of the website.

Third-party websites and services

Our website could contain links to other websites which have their own privacy policy that is different to that adopted of this website and therefore it does not respond to these sites.

How to refuse cookies or express your options regarding the use of cookies

By default, almost all web browsers are set to automatically accept cookies. Visitors can change the settings of their browser so that they can accept/refuse all cookies or display a notice banner every time a cookie is proposed to be able to evaluate whether or not to accept it.

Users can, however, change the default configuration and disable cookies (i.e. block them permanently), by setting the highest level of protection. You can change the settings of your Internet browser to manage, restrict or block cookies.

All cookies can be deleted or disabled individually by the user within the browser. For more browser-specific information to understand how to delete or disable cookies, check the following links for the main browsers:
